

Major Adam Curtis
*Chief, 90th Space Wing
Commander's Action Group*

Major Curtis is currently the Chief of the Commander's Action Group for the 90th Space Wing, F. E. Warren AFB, Wyoming. Major Curtis graduated from Baylor University in 1995 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Work and recieved a Master's Degree in Human Resource Management from Webster University.

Major Curtis has previously been stationed at Hanscom AFB, Massachusetts, in the Joint Surveillance Target Attack Radar System (JSTARS) program office as the Director for Mission Support; Whiteman AFB, Missouri, in the 509th Security Forces Squadron as the Headquarters Section Commander; Allied Forces Southern Region Headquarters, Naples, Italy, as the Support Group Operations, Plans and Training Officer; Allied Air Forces Southern Region Headquarters, Naples, Italy, as the Executive Officer to the Assistant Chief of Staff for Logistics; Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio as the Director of Personnel and Mission Support Programs; and F. E. Warren AFB, WY, in the 320th Missile Squadron as an ICBM Crew Commander and 90th Operations Support Squadron as the Deputy Flight Commander for Current Operations.

In his current position, he is responsible for the management of the base 0-0-1-3 Responsible Drinking Culture Program, which has been a model for many other base level programs worldwide. The program has had inspiring success in its first 18 months, with a decrease in DUI rates by 27 percent and underage drinking by 73 percent.

Major Curtis is a member of the Wyoming Council for Enforcing Underage Drinking Laws, the Wyoming Governor's Council To Prevent Impaired Driving, and the Wyoming First-Ladies Initiative.
